Report

I was nervous cum excited to start with my internship, in the court. I still remember the first day of my internship, the picture of the court in my mind was of much disciplined, neat and tidy. But it was quite opposite. There was a huge rush of people with the lawyers discussing their cases. Some were sipping tea in the tea stall while others were busy doing the notary work too.

My advocate told me that internship could be compared to that of a student who is in first standard and has just started learning addition, subtraction, division and multiplication. The rebuttals and many others although sound interesting but it was totally new to me and when we read these words in Hindi is all the more very difficult. My sir asked me to read various cases so that it would be easier for me to interpret various words more easily. He also told me that there were different Courtrooms and judges ranging from District judge to the additional district judge to civil judge I to civil judge II and session judge.

Overall my internship was an outstanding experience. I got a deep and inspiring insight in the work. One main thing I have learned through this internship is time management and self motivation. I sincerely thank my advocate Mr. Jagdish Yadav for his guidance and also providing me the opportunity for this internship and making me better at it.

INTERNSHIP REPORT

(Placement cell head)

INTRODUCTION

Court is regarded as the temple of justice. Court visit is included in legal education curriculum to provide the student with an opportunity by observing a live court room. High court is a constitutional court in terms of article 215.

The high court has jurisdiction in both civil as well as criminal matter. Every high court consists of chief justice and such other judges.

EXPERIENCE

As I entered the high there was so much rush there because there were about 8-9 lawyer sitting together. I was nervous when I first entered the court I had to make report on the proceeding of the court which is used to observe. Sir used to explain the facts of the case, He used to explain and clear my doubts again and again. As it was my internship I really enjoyed there. As it was a different kind of experience part from normal theoretical studies in college. I used to travel by local trains. It was about 30 kms to reach the high court.

CONCLUSION

The biggest lesson learned that "More you will work more you will learn" As every case study gives you new knowledge and information.

INTERNEED UNDER THE GUIDANCE OF ADV. RAM YAGYA TIWARI

(FAIZABAD DISTRICT COURT)

INTERNSHIP PERIOD: 19 MARCH 2018- 10 APRIL 2018

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I, Harshita Tripathi student of B.A.LL.B (Hons.) 1st semester, would like to pay my sincere gratitude towards our placement cell head Asst. Prof. Mr. Jaidev Mahindra for giving me the opportunity to do internship.

I am also thankful to Mr. Ram Yagya Tiwari, advocate in the Faizabad District Court, who was my mentor and guided me all through the interning days.

PERSONAL OBERVATION

As I entered the Court room, the actual district court was totally different from what I used to think. The picture that flashed in my mind was of much disciplined, neat and tidy district court. But it was quite opposite. There was a huge rush of people with the lawyers discussing their cases. Some were sipping tea in the tea stall whereas some were rushing to the Courtroom and some were sitting in the bar council lawn and discussing some stuff. The advocates were pre-occupied with their cases and had no time to spare. Since there were elections going on, so it was another topic of discussion among the advocates. So as I walked down the stairs, I entered into the chamber of my advocate. As it was an advocate's chamber, it contained too many books or rather BARE-ACTS ranging from CPC to Constitutional Law to Indian Contract Act. Apart from this, it had bundles of files which contained the cases of the clients. I introduced myself and my advocate or better to address him as sir as I did, asked me some general questions and from then onwards my internship actually begun.

He told me that that the first step involved before pleading is, drafting of a plaint. At that time the situation of a budding lawyer could be compared to that of a student who is in first standard and has just started learning addition, subtraction, division and multiplication and it is totally new for him. So it all depends upon the teacher as to how she tackles with the student. The same was the case with me. The words like plaint, written statement, rebuttals although sound interesting but it was totally new to me and when you read these words in Hindi is all the more very difficult. My sir told me how to draft a plaint and he, in fact, asked me to read various cases so that it would be easier for me to interpret various words more easily and in this way I would also learn to draft a better plaint.

He explained the entire format of the proceedings i.e. written statement follows plaint, which is followed by replication, then additional pleas, final hearing which involves evidence of both the parties, date of argument, judgment and finally execution.

He asked me to move along with her in the district court and thereby to understand the proceedings that took place. There were different Courtrooms and judges ranging from District judge to the additional district judge to civil judge(senior division) to civil judge(junior division) and so on. The cases are dealt according to their pecuniary jurisdiction. Section 9 of the CPC clearly mentions about the competency of the Court. It explains what all cases could be dealt by the Court and what they are expressly or impliedly barred from dealing with.

As I entered the Courtroom, it was totally different from what I used to think. There was a judge sitting in the Courtroom and different advocates were pleading before the Hon'ble judge in "Hindi". The judge asked some of the questions and the legal terminology used by the advocates was although easy to comprehend but difficult to understand for common people. For a student of the first semester what is necessary while watching the proceedings is to understand as far as possible each and every word that is pronounced while an advocate is pleading before the Judge. Although it is difficult to easily understand each and every line, yet it is necessary to jot down each and every point that he come through the proceedings. The way an advocate pleads before the judge and prays before him to grant the partition and exclusive possession by meters and bounds are really worth noting.

CONCLUSION-

It was a great experience as a intern working in a district court. I am highly obliged that I have done my first internship under a great mentor Advocate Ram Yagya Tiwari. During my internship I got acquainted with various laws and legal procedure which will surely going to help me in my academics. I also got to learn how to interact with your clients to fully understand their problem and how to deal with it. During my internship I experienced the things happening in the society. I have learnt so many practical things during my internship, surely they will help me n my future.

(Placement Cell Head)

Introduction: I have satisfactorily an internship of 21 working days under the supervision of an advocate. It is important to remember that we cannot complete BA.LLB degree without Legal Internship. Internships fulfill an important component of both academic and practical education in law.

Experience: Consequently, the program is not simply 'work experience' but a significant educational experience. In a workplace it exposed me to the reality of the practice of law in all its dimensions in integration of different areas of law, policy issues; the application and development of skills to the analysis and resolution of client concerns ethical responses to situation which arise unexpectedly and spontaneously; issues of professional responsibility including responsibility to clients and case management; and the operations of the government and court system in the legal process.

Legal valuable: Internship program is not designed to teach students how to be good lawyers or how to be lawyers at all expose law in operation in contexts where I come to perceive aspects of law which cannot be learned from reading or hearing about it and alloy me to perceive ways in which the formal learning acquire at collage applied in practice. It enable me to relate the different area of legal practice to the importance of developing the skills of legal research, Communication, drafting, practice, responsibility.

Conclusion: At the end of my internship I learned different skills of research, communication, and practice that different types of legal work require an additional benefit of the program is that it provides me an opportunity to observe the way in which law operates in practice milieu and so it help me in making future carrier.

INTERNSHIP REPORT

I interned under Advocate Vikram Sarkar, who is a very well-renowned Civil lawyer in the District Court of Gorakhpur for 23 days from 19/03/2018 to 10/04/2018 and the timings were the regular Court timings from 10 a.m.-5 p.m., after which I used to go to the office to research further and study cases.

During my internship, I specifically dealt with cases of a civil nature. I was exposed to the working of the District Court in Gorakhpur, Uttar Pradesh and the procedures involved in carrying out the day to day proceedings in the court. I studied various sections and rules under the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. I was also exposed to the State Amendments of Uttar Pradesh and the Acts under it for e.g. I came across cases dealing with the U.P. Panchayat Raj Act 1947, U.P. Urban Buildings Act 1972.

The civil cases I was mostly exposed to were dealing with Property Law including rent, lease, partition suits, the role of Rent Control and Eviction Officer. I learnt about the intricacies involved in drafting an amendment application, the law of limitation, affidavit, 'kurra'.

The best part about the internship was that I got to learn a lot more about the nitty-gritties of the judiciary, especially, the way the advocates deal with cases and the response of different judges in terms of different situations arising in the Court.

This internship definitely helped me to study the different aspects of law at the root level and the practicality of such aspects in the Court of law.

I have also went to different courts with my advocate like family court, consumer forum and have also attended lokadalat.

I am thankful to the institute for providing me with the recommendation letter for my internship and hope to recommend me next time also for my internship.
